

Check out what the Infant & Toddler Classes have been up to in January!

The Buddy Bears watch in excitement as a simple science experiment results in a colorful explosion in the snow!

We took turns letting our imaginations run wild in our "star box", where the invention of the lightbulb shone bright!

Baby Bears used their hand-eye coordination to choose their favorite-colored mitten!

This month in the Baby Bear Class, we "built" our own snowmen using our colorful stacking cups!

After learning about the discovery of star constellations, we used cheerios to follow the lines and recreate simple constellations.
